

Enrique Peláez Jarrín.

Ph.D. in Electrical and Computer Engineering, from The University of South Carolina, USA. 1994.

Master of Science in Electrical and Computer Engineering, from The University of South Carolina, USA. 1991.

Electrical and Electronic Engineer, Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral – ESPOL, Ecuador, 1989.

Fulbright – LASPAU Scholar, 1989.

Author of several publications in international indexed journals about Computer Engineering, Fuzzy Logic and Management of Uncertainty, Computer Virus, Information and Communications Technologies in Education, Local Development based on ICT, Artificial Intelligence, Expert Systems, among others.

Outstanding Graduate Award in Electrical and Computer Engineering from The University of South Carolina, USA. 1994.

Scientific Merit Award from ESPOL in 2003, and Institutional Merit Award in 2010.

Founder and First Executive Director of the Ecuadorian Consortium for Advance Internet Development – CEDIA. The National Research and Educational Network of Ecuador.

Professor at the Electrical and Computer Engineering Department of Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral – ESPOL, Ecuador.

Member of the Research Council of ESPOL.

Director of the Information Technologies Research Center at ESPOL. The first research center deployed at the Knowledge Park, PARCON-ESPOL.